Abutters ... ze Proposed Subdivision

Board To Vote May 9 On Ballardvale Plans

By Frank Messina

The Planning Board will vote May 9 on a proposed 73-lot subdivision in the Ballardvale section of town.

The preliminary plans submitted by Wyncrest Development Corp. were scrutinized carefully by abutters, who filled the town hall meeting room Tuesday night.

But, he added, a trade-off was necessary and Wyncrest was forced to add another 16 lots to the original proposal to cover the additional costs.

Town Physical Planner Steve Colyer told the board to weigh the sub-

Located off Dascomb Road near Clark Road, development would fit the lots on about 44 acres. Wyncrest would cede 22 acres of wetlands in the area as open space.

Several neighbors felt they were getting the short end of the houses-for-sewers trade.

Jeanne Henry asked why the additional 16 houses? When Mr. Macleod replied the revenue would support a sewer system that would service Ballardvale, she shot back that "so instead you impact the traf-

Published every several years, the handbook is a complete guide to Andover, including town government, the school system, recreational facilities and more.

The handbook is being updated with a summer publication date and will be available in local bookstores. For further information, contact Ann Hall, 10 Laverder Hill Lane.

EASE OR DISEASE

Why do you become ill while others remain healthy? Do our diseases come from "out there" or "in here?" Disease is a human response.

Certain personality traits and coping styles (the way we are) can predispose a person to the impact of emotional distress which can negatively affect your immune system.

Studies indicate that analysis can improve a person's physical and mental well being.

Family Service Accredited

Family Service Association of Greater Lawrence, 430 North Canal St., has received a certificate of accreditation from the Council on Accreditation of Services for Families and Children, according to an announcement by Kay Frishman of Andover, executive director of the agency.

"Accreditation, which is for a four-year period, attests that an agency has met a set of nationally established requirements which help ensure quality service," said David Shover, council executive director. "Accreditation provides assurance that the agency is performing services which the community needs, conducting its operations effectively and managing its funds wisely."

The procedure involves a detailed examination of the agency's operation and includes a self-study by the agency and a visit by council reviewers.

Family Service Association of Greater Lawrence, founded in 1854, is a social service agency providing a range of services.

The council, sponsored by the Association of Jewish Family and Children's Agencies, Catholic Charities USA, Child Welfare League of America, Family Service America, Lutheran Social Ministry System, National Committee for Adoption and National Association of Homes for Children, accredits private voluntary and proprietary agencies as well as local direct service public agencies.

It accredits more than 540 agencies in the United States and Canada and is the only independent accrediting body providing quality assurance over a broad range of family and children's services.

Amblyopia Screening To Be Offered

Amblyopia screening will be conducted by the Andona Society. This part of the Andover public schools' screening of preschoolers has been done by society members since 1967.

Amblyopia, more commonly referred to as lazy eye, affects 5 percent of the population. It is characterized by the reduced or dimmed vision in one or both eyes without any apparent disease and is often caused by muscle imbalance in the eyes.

One eye may turn out or in while the other sees straight, so two images are sent to the brain. To avoid confusion, the brain ignores the message from one eye, thus gradually weakening that eye. If this condition is not detected before the child is 6 or 7, it becomes permanent and untreatable.

The Random Dot E test, a modern scientific technique to evaluate depth perception related to visual acuity, is used to detect amblyopia. The child wears a pair of glasses that look like sunglasses.

A series of two small cards are held up and the child points to the card on which he or she sees the hidden E. The E can only be seen through the glasses if both eyes are working together.

In order to provide the greatest possible accuracy in test results, the Random Dot E test will be used in conjunction with the Snellen E test in which the child is asked to use his or her fingers to show which way the E points.

All children between the ages of 3 and 6 should be screened for amblyopia. Screening for prekindergarten children will be held at Memorial Hall Library's children's room May 1, 2, 3, 8, 9 and 10 from 10:30 a.m. to noon and 12:30 p.m. to 2 p.m. Vision screening for 3- and 4-year-olds and rescreening will be held May 30 through June 2 at the library during the same hours. For further information, contact Geri Jacobson or Mary Ann Klein.

Arborists To Participate In Field Day

Each year, in conjunction with Arbor Day, the members of the Massachusetts Arborists Association choose a public park or grounds to perform actual tree work free of charge.

Some tree companies will prune and cable large oak trees near the site of the original Morely Mansion while others will provide and plant three sugar maples and one Red Oak.

This is an ideal time to visit Maudslay State Park, located on Curzon Mill Road. Albert R. Retelle of Andover is the staff horticulturist and will be on site to answer questions.

Maudslay State Park is under the jurisdiction of the Department of Environmental Management, Division of Forest and Parks, and is open every day from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. There is no admission charge.

Breakfasters Celebrate Old Town Hall Opening

By Karen Herman

A May breakfast begins the celebration of the Old Town Hall rededication weekend on Saturday, May 6, from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. Breakfasters will feast on pancakes, sausage, juice and coffee and get a look at the carefully restored 1858 upstairs meeting hall. A rededication ceremony will be held at noon in front of the building, weather permitting, otherwise indoors.

The breakfast renews a tradition begun in the last century by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Grand Army of the Republic and held in the hall of the town house, now referred to as town hall. The women began cooking a meal of ham, beans, fruits and coffee at 2 a.m. Breakfast was served promptly at 6:30 a.m. Children sold

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

Praise is one of the most powerful teaching forces parents have at their command this should start at a very early age. Caring is, in the end, what we want most from our children and in those bonds of affection is the happiness we want for them. The purpose of praise and its effect are threefold: 1) Praise makes it more likely that the praised behavior will occur more often in the future. 2) Praise increases the child's feelings of self-esteem. 3) Praise increases the bonds of affection between parent and child. A few appropriate words have a strong impact and a long-range effect on your child.

ABOUT OUR PEOPLE

Addison Director To Step Down

Washington, D.C., Gallery Director To Take Over In Interim

Christopher C. Cook, director of the Addison Gallery of American Art for the last 20 years, will step down in August. Mr. Cook, who says his life as an artist and career as an art administrator are conflicting, said he wants to pursue his own art.

Jock Reynolds, executive director of the Washington Project for the Arts in Washington, D.C., for the past six years, will assume Mr. Cook's responsibilities Sept. 1. Mr. Reynolds, also an artist/curator, will serve a one-year interim term while on sabbatical from his post. During the year the Addison will conduct a national search for a permanent gallery director.

Mr. Reynolds' works, many done in collaboration with his wife and fellow artist, Suzanne Hellmuth, have won numerous awards and are exhibited nationally and internationally. He and his wife will do commissioned works at sites in Lowell and at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and he plans to curate next year's "Options" exhibition at the WPA and organize its annual art auction during his sabbatical.

"The prospect of serving as interim director of the Addison Gallery is of significant interest to me as it allows me to continue a tradition (begun by Mr. Cook) of having a working artist in leadership of a program which is strongly committed to the support of education and living artists," said Mr. Reynolds, who attended Phillips Academy.

He added that he looks forward to returning to the cultural and artistic richness of the Boston area.

Mr. Cook, who has known Mr. Reynolds for several years, says, "Jock Reynolds is a stimulating artist, proven administrator and a fine human being. He and his wife, Suzanne, will bring liveliness and wisdom to the Addison Gallery and Phillips Academy."

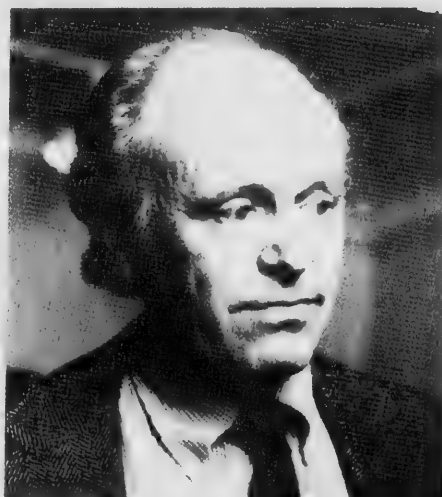

During Mr. Cook's stewardship, the museum has maintained the dual role of primary resource for PA's art education program and regional art center/museum for Greater Boston and the Greater Merrimack Valley.

Growing from a $50,000 annual operation in 1969 to a $500,000 annual operation in '88, the museum has tripled its staff to meet the demands of stronger programs and a growing collection to which 6,500 works of art have been added. While these additions include paintings, prints, drawings, video tapes and sculpture, the majority of accessions have been in the area of photography.

"The concentration in that medium reflects the importance of photography to the teaching program of Phillips Academy and the special relationship between the museum and the school," Mr. Cook said.

In the late '60s and early '70s the Addison exhibit program strongly reflected the impact of conceptual art, Mr. Cook said. Following a year's leave in 1971-'72 to direct the Institute of Contemporary Art in Boston, Mr. Cook initiated a museum-based art therapy program at the Addison Gallery. The program was organized in collaboration with Lesley College in Cambridge and staffed by students from Lesley and Phillips Academy. Serving adults and children from regional mental health care centers, the program enriched the lives of participants while exploring ways museums can serve new audiences, Mr. Cook said.

In conjunction with its 50th anniversary in 1978, the museum embarked on a $5 million fund-raising drive to bolster all aspects of its programs. The successful completion of that campaign in 1983 provided the basis for larger, more ambitious exhibitions such as "Contemporary Russian Painting" (1986),

Christopher C. Cook

"Raymond Saunders" (1987), "Eadweard Muybridge: Motion Studies" (1987) and "Harold Tovish" (1988-'89)

"If there is a central theme to our exhibits, events and productions, it has been to welcome the new and unusual, to see the diversity of art and to observe art's potential to dynamically affect human growth," Mr. Cook said.

Mr. Reynolds, who recently led the WPA through an extensive refurbishing of its headquarters and a $2 million endowment campaign, has been credited with catapulting his organization to a place of prominence as a premier multi-discipline and multi-cultural exhibit center. The two men share a commitment to continue reaching a wide spectrum of audiences and stimulating different ways of thinking.

Mr. Cook will continue teaching art at the academy and the School of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, where he has been a part-time faculty member since 1978. Active in the arts community in various capacities throughout his tenure as gallery director, he was a trustee of the Ogunquit Art Association, the Institute of Contemporary Art and the American Museum of Fly Fishing and a visitor to the MFA school and Harvard University's department of visual and environmental studies. An adviser to the Archives of American Art, Mr. Cook also served on the executive committee of the Council on Museum Education in the Visual and the museum panel for the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities.

"Christopher Cook has been a devoted director of the Addison Gallery of American Art for some 20 years," said Melville Chapin, a 1936 Phillips Academy graduate and trustee board chairman. "He has carried this position with distinction in the tradition we have had at the gallery since its beginning. His leadership has kept the Addison in the forefront of American art, both modern and traditional, and we owe him much. We shall miss Christopher Cook as director, but we are delighted that he will stay on in a teaching role."

State Holds Art Contest For Election

The secretary of state's office is sponsoring a contest to select an original work of art that will be featured on all 1990 election materials.

Michael J. Connolly's elections division publishes voter education products ranging from brochures about absentee ballots, voter registration and nomination deadlines to lapel buttons and transit signs. The winning entry will appear on all 1990 materials, including the "Information for Voters" booklet, which contains information about the ballot questions and is sent to every Massachusetts' household prior to state elections. All entries should be designed in two colors, at least 5 inches by 7 inches and not larger than 24 inches by 36 inches, one of which should be suitable for text and must be camera-ready with color separation.

The contest is open to Massachusetts' residents except employees of the secretary of state. Submit one entry per person to Michael J. Connolly, Secretary of State, 1 Ashburton Place, Room 1705, Boston, Mass. 02108.

The deadline is 5 p.m. May 26. All entries become the property of the secretary of state's office. The winner will be announced June 9 and must sign a release to authorize use of the design.

tickets for 25 cents and received a prize for their efforts. These breakfasts were later changed to suppers and held in the American Legion Hall over Dalton's Drug Store. West Parish Church has a long-standing tradition of serving May breakfast that continues to this day.

Rededication weekend events have been planned and coordinated by the Andover Historical Society. May breakfast committee members are Chairman Karen Herman, Dick Barron, Martha Schmidt, Patsy Claydon, Randy Hanson, Lydia Moul, Lolli Sunberg and Susan O'Leary.

Other events include an old fashioned spelling bee at 2:30 p.m. and the Andover Theatre Company's performance of The Curious Savage at 8 p.m.

An art auction preview will be held from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. with the starting time at 4 p.m. on Sunday, May 7. Visitors will enjoy an exhibit of paintings by Andover artist Frances Dalton and a show of local scenes titled "An Artist Looks at Andover" presented by the Andovers Artists Guild. A special pictorial postmark of Old Town Hall, designed by James Batcheler, will be available on Saturday. Limited edition commemorative plates featuring Frances McCormick's view of the town hall will be on sale both days.

The region in which the Shawsheen students competed included Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Maine, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York and northeastern Canada.

Among the experts who judged the young artists' entries was Shawsheen School art teacher and Harvard University graduate student Dolores Dunning. But Ms. Dunning abstained from voting on art work submitted from Andover.

These creative masterpieces are among 75 that will be on exhibit at the Boston University School of Visual Arts, 855 Commonwealth Ave. in Boston, from May 19 to June 8.

How to choose a pediatrician without kidding around

If you let your children choose a pediatrician, they would probably pick the one with the best toys in the waiting room.

But you know there's more to choosing a pediatrician. Whether you're looking for a pediatrician for the first time, or are new to the area, here's a few things to keep in mind:

1. Interview the physician and office manager. Find out if they have a good rapport with you and your children. Check the physician's medical background for board certification in pediatrics.

2. Are the office hours convenient? What's the policy for middle-of-the-night phone calls? Or weekends? When the physician's away, is there someone available as a back-up?

3. Does the hospital the pediatrician is affiliated with have a good reputation for pediatric care? Mothers already familiar with the hospital where you gave birth should consider choosing the same hospital for pediatric care.

At Winchester Hospital, we have some of the best pediatricians in the area, and a reputation for outstanding pediatric care. Our pediatric services include a Level II special care nursery, and a modern pediatric unit with a home-like atmosphere fully staffed by nurses dedicated to pediatric care.

We know how troubling having a child in the hospital can be. That's why from our emergency room to our lab and x-ray departments, we do more than other hospitals to make you and your child as comfortable as possible.

If you're looking for a pediatrician or would like information about Winchester Hospital's many programs and services, call our new Physician Referral Service at (617) 729-8278.

The

Butler's Pantry

Serving the Andovers

Gourmet Needs for 15 Years

Now that the Easter and Passover holidays are behind us, The Butler's Pantry would like to thank all our customers for their continued support which has led to our success and sustained growth over the past 15 years.

Our copywriting department may not be as well versed in touting our praises as is that of some of our competitors, but we have consistently strived to give the people of our community the highest quality, best tasting and most visually appealing food possible.

From our beginnings as pioneers in the gourmet food business in Andover, when we were basically a cheese shop with a small assortment of specialty grocery items, we have expanded year after year to become a full service specialty store offering an unequalled selection of fine Pate, European Cheese and unusual Deli items, in addition to those hard to find Gourmet Products.

Our new Prepared Foods Department already has a steady following for our fine array of entrees, salads and soups to go. Andover's working community finds us to be an excellent alternative to the usual sandwich shop.

Our Kitchenware Department has changed over the years with a greater emphasis on gadgets and bakeware. We continue to have a complete selection of Calphalon cookware, Krups coffeemakers and Henckels knives, all at the most consistently competitive prices anywhere. Another well kept secret is that we sell Taylor Woodcraft Butcher Block Furniture at more than 1/3 Off the manufacturer's suggested retail. Come browse through our catalog.

Another way in which we can be of service to you is in the area of Party Goods. We have some of the most beautifully patterned paper plates and napkins, as well as solid colors. Also available are cups and plastic utensils to complement your selection, all perfect for upcoming weddings and showers.

Our Candy Department speaks for itself with such names as Godiva, Laderach of Switzerland, Moreau and Joseph Schmidt Truffles. In addition, we have nuts, baking chocolate, assorted European candy bars, novelty chocolates and a selection of sugar free chocolates.

But even with all the above, our showpiece department, our crown jewel, is our European Style Bakery. We are able to obtain the services of Boston's eight finest bakers, each with their own Award Winning specialties, to insure that our customers are treated to nothing less than the best, most delicious cakes, pastries, fruit flans, breads and breakfast food (muffins, Danish, croissants, bagels, etc.).

In addition, we specialize in Wedding Cakes beyond compare - the most beautiful, best tasting wedding cakes imaginable. Our bakers will work with you on every last detail so that your cake will be nothing less than perfect for that most important occasion. Come study our Photo Album of Cakes.

To complement our bakery, we are now selling gourmet Coffee by the Cup - regular, decaf or flavored. This is in addition to our 32 varieties of whole bean coffee by the pound, which we are able to custom grind to your method of brewing.

This is what we have been up to at The Butler's Pantry, and in appreciation for taking the time to read this, we would like to give you a complimentary cup of coffee and muffin with our heartfelt thanks for shopping with us. All you need do, is to tell us which area of the store you like best.

Finally, we very much appreciate your business. Please let us know how we may better serve your needs.

Toni & Jonathan and the ladies who serve you best - Janet, Marianne, Margaret, Elaine, Steff, Tricia, Kristen, Joanne, Heather and Donna.

18,000 Massachusetts students are about to start an incredible journey to the bottom of the sea.

They'll soon be traveling six thousand feet to the bottom of the Mediterranean Sea.

It's all part of the JASON Project. A unique educational experience supported by Raytheon.

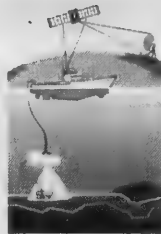

The JASON Project is being headed by Dr. Robert Ballard, the scientist who discovered the wreck of the Titanic.

Now Dr. Ballard and his team from the Woods Hole

Oceanographic Institution will be sending a remotely controlled robotic vehicle called JASON to the floor of the Mediterranean. To explore volcanic activity. And search for shipwrecks that happened almost two thousand years ago.

During the first two weeks in May, television pictures will be broadcast live from JASON.

The pictures will be sent to the Boston Museum of Science, where they will be watched by thousands of Massachusetts elementary and high school students.

Television camera on the robotic vehicle JASON will transmit pictures by fiber optic cable to the mother ship. From there, they will be instantaneously transmitted by satellite to the Boston Museum of Science.

Dr. Ballard has chosen his exploration sites carefully. The first week will be spent at Pinn Seamount, an active underwater volcano. The second week will be spent exploring the remains of ships that plied the major trade routes of the Mediterranean in thousands of years ago.

The students will be in direct communication with Dr. Ballard and his crew. They will be able to ask questions during the explorations.

The live broadcasts will last for fourteen days. But the JASON Project will have a long lasting impact on Massachusetts education.

The National Association of Science Teachers has developed a curriculum of teaching materials based on this project.

This curriculum includes oceanography, geography, archeology and satellite communications.

Raytheon is happy to sponsor the Boston Museum of Science's participation in the JASON Project.

Science is fundamental to our business.

And the JASON Project gives us a unique opportunity to make science come alive for thousands of students.

Students Get Set For Prom

By Cathy Allard

Spring is here. Flowers are blooming, romance is beginning, and high school students are shopping around for the perfect evening outfit. The prom is upon us.

"I'm so excited," said Grace Park, hostess of this year's prom. She is one of 25 juniors who make up the prom committee. "We have worked hard to make this prom one of the best."

The theme for the May 13 prom is the song "Never Tear Us Apart" by INXS. "The junior class held a poll for song titles," explained Kathy Zalla, junior class adviser. "They had 23 titles. They voted, and 'Never Tear Us Apart' was a run-away."

The juniors also voted on the host and hostess of the prom. "The kids nominated and voted for Adam Clark and Grace Park; they won fist over fist," said Ms. Zalla.

The prom committee needed to raise money for the disc jockey, flowers and centerpieces. So they held a prom fashion show on April 6 and a concert featuring local bands Vital Image and Sticks and Stones on April 7. "These are the two major fund-raisers for this year," Ms. Park said. "They had to be successful to lower the price of the tickets." But tickets aren't the only costs students who go to the prom have.

Would-be prom-goers are trying to find ways to make money to pay for all the extras. A gown costs anywhere from $90 to $200; a tux rental is about $75 to $125; the tickets are $45 to $75; and flowers are $10 to $25. Now that a couple is ready to go, how will they get to the Lowell Hilton if they have no money left to rent a limousine?

The School Committee and student government may have come up with a solution. New Boston Limo Inc. in Boston has a "limo-bus," which seats approximately 20 people. The limo-buses are similar to the Weebus that transports the town's eld-

IF YOU ARE A HOMEOWNER, OUR EQUITY CREDITLINE IS THE ONLY SMART WAY TO BORROW.

HOW THE 1986 TAX REFORM ACT REDUCES YOUR TAXABLE INCOME.*
Non-mortgage consumer loan			Andover Bank Equity Creditline
Year	Tax deductibility	Reduction in taxable income	Reduction in taxable income	Benefits of Equity Creditline
1989	20%	300	1500	1200
1990	10%	150	1500	1350
1991	0	0	1500	1500

*Sample $15,000 loan at 10% annual percentage rate; chart refers to deductibility of interest. Actual rates may vary.

As of now, interest on an Andover Bank Equity Creditline up to $100,000 is fully tax deductible and the money may be used for any purchase or expense. For homeowners, that's the biggest news since the 1986 Tax Reform Act itself, because your Andover Bank Equity Creditline can be used for major purchases like a new car, college education, a dream vacation, or for unforeseen medical expenses—anything you wish. Most important of all, interest payments are fully deductible.

The chart above shows how a hypothetical consumer loan of $15,000 at an annual percentage rate (APR) of 10% will eventually generate no tax deduction at all. The same amount at the same 10% APR applied to an Andover Bank Equity Creditline may lower your taxable income by $1500 each year as long as you meet IRS requirements. Actual APR may vary.

But perhaps the most sensible reason to take advantage of an Andover Bank Equity Creditline is our Fixed Rate Conversion feature. It allows you to move to a fixed rate, which protects you from rising interest rates. It also enables you to segregate equity funds used for specific purposes. In an era of rising interest rates, Fixed Rate Conversion capability could save you a great deal of money.

Of course, an Andover Bank Equity Creditline requires no application fees or legal fees, and our repayment plans are flexible to fit your unique situation. For more information on how to use our Equity Creditline as well as additional details on the new Fixed Rate Conversion feature, call or visit one of our eight convenient Merrimack Valley offices soon. We think you'll agree that for major purchases, an Andover Bank Equity Creditline is the only smart way to borrow.

Sanborn fourth-grader Tara Kavanaugh learns how to make paper from high school humanities students Erica Heartquist and Cindy LaCroix. The project was part of Sanborn's recycling education program.

Sanborn Studies Recycling

Sanborn Elementary School fourth-graders have been learning how waste paper can be reused.

Andover Recycling Committee member Cynthia Hollenbeck spoke to the students about the importance of recycling and how much waste is actually recyclable. Some children were so impressed that they started recycling school waste paper, said one of their teachers, June Blake.

A field trip to Atlantic Coast Paperboard Corp. in Lawrence was a highlight in encouraging everyone to recycle paper. The children observed used paper being dumped into huge vats, where foreign objects such as glass, metal and Styrofoam were removed from the pulp. The children learned that Atlantic Paperboard recycles 200 to 227 tons of paper every day.

The second field trip was to the Regional Waste-to-Energy Plant in North Andover where the students observed mountains of trash being picked up and dumped into huge furnaces. They were also told how burning the trash heats water to turn generators. These generators produce enough electrical energy to service 27,000 homes.

"Although the children felt better that trash was being used for energy, the vast amounts of paper, cardboard boxes, etc. that was observed being burned could have been reprocessed at a recycling plant," Ms. Blake said. "There might not have been as much electricity generated, but many trees, a depleted natural resource, would have been saved."

Guest speakers in the kids' classrooms included Everett Penney and Dan Tremblay from the Andover board of Health. They talked to the young recyclers about what hazardous wastes are, common hazardous wastes in the home and how very hazardous wastes are handled. They showed the class protective clothing and masks and how they are used.

In a related activity, the fourth-graders learned how to make their paper with helping hands from Fran McCormack er citizens. They are equipped with a television, stereo and VCR passengers can control. The seats are velour and cozy. Lindsey McCracken, a senior who has ridden in a limo-bus, said, "I think they are cute and comfortable."

Chris McAnally, president of the senior class, said "the limo-bus was nice...and if I didn't drive and my date didn't drive, I would do it. But this year I think I'm going to drive."

Many people think that if they take the limo-bus they will not be able to drive to parties afterward or leave early if they want. But the idea of the limo-bus is not to stop kids from going to parties, said Timothy Thomas, Andover High assistant principal.

"It is for kids who don't have their license, or their parents don't want their kids to drive to a strange place, or if the kids don't want to spend the money," Mr. Thomas explained.

Students will stop at the high school for a promenade through the J. Everett Collins Center and then ride in one of the limo-buses to the Lowell Hilton. "We know how nervous parents can get about kids driving to new places in beautiful cars...this will give the parents security and save some money for the students," said Principal Wilbur Hixon.

Mr. Hixon also likes the idea of the van-buses because it will stop some of the "competition" he said he has seen with cars and limos in the years he has attended the proms.

Still, many students feel that a personal limo is the only way to go to the prom. "I want a limo...I don't want to go with 12 other people...I want to go in a limo, just me and my date," said senior Jennifer Milne.

Other students think the limo-bus is a good idea. "I think people make too big a deal about the prom," said Barry Finegold, a senior. He felt the limo-bus was a good alternative for kids who don't want to or can't drive.

"I would (take the limo-bus) because it would be less expensive, and you can go with more of your friends," said senior Ann Larsen. Some students it won't be so bad, since the ride to the Lowell Hilton is the only time they will be in a car until after the prom.

The money for this alternative for students is a gift from the Parent Advisory Council. The money will subsidize the cost of the limo-buses and help pay for part of the promenade.

Parents interested in the limo-buses may talk to Sandy Bertetti of PAC, who is working closely with the student government and prom committee.

"This may be a safe and inexpensive alternative for students," said high school counselor Mike Marcoux.

'We know how nervous parents can get about kids driving to new places in beautiful cars...this will give the parents security and save some money for the students.'

Seniors Win Merit Scholarships

Two Andover students have each won $2,000 National Merit Scholarships. Natalie J. Belkin of 10 Oriole Drive and Marisa A. Murtagh of 12 Blueberry Circle were among 1,800 scholarship winners chosen by the National Merit Scholarship Corp.

All of about 14,000 finalists in this year's competition were considered for one of the single-payment national awards of $2,000 that are allocated on a state representational basis, corporation officials said. Recipients were selected by a committee of college admissions officers and secondary school counselors who chose each state's winners in proportion to the size of the state's high school senior classes.

Committee teams considered the amount and difficulty level of finalists' course work, as well as grades earned, test scores, demonstrated leadership in school and community activities, personal interests and goals and school recommendations. Finalists chosen as National Merit scholars were judged by the committee to have the strongest combination of abilities, accomplishments and personal characteristics generally associated with academic success in rigorous college studies, officials said.

Ms. Belkin, an Andover High School senior, wants to enter law eventually. The Andover High valedictorian is the recipient of the Harvard Book and Rensselaer Math and Science awards, as well as awards in math and American studies. She has been a tutor for two years and has volunteered at a riding stable for the disabled through the high school's ACSES volunteer club. She takes a Boston University selective life drawing class and is a member of the National Honor Society.

Ms. Murtagh, who goes to Phillips Academy, listed writing as her career field. A member of the cum laude society, she received special recognition from the headmaster for academic excellence. Ms. Murtagh belongs to the literary magazine board and contributes to the French magazine. She has been a Graham House tutor for two years. She has played for the PA tennis team for three years and the soccer team for four. Ms. Murtagh is currently studying in Bologna, Italy, at Liceo Scientifico Enrico Fermi Math/Science High School.

Resident Places In Speech Contest

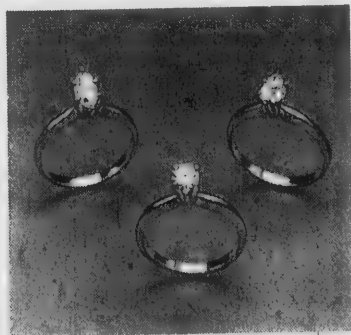

Joseph C. Sweeney, Sr. of Andover won second prize in the first Linda Joyce Ettinger Social Issues Public Speaking Contest held at Salem State College on April 7.

Mr. Sweeney, an older student who has returned to college during his retirement years, spoke on "Florida: Boon or Bust?" The Salem State student is active on the college's tennis team and has been featured in national media as the oldest collegiate varsity sports player in the country.

Mr. Sweeney was one of 14 contestants who vied for prizes and covered a diverse range of topics. The contest was sponsored by SCC Professors Mort and Charlotte Ettinger of Marblehead in memory of their late daughter, a 1975 graduate of Salem State. The Ettingers say they want to emphasize to students the importance of developing communication skills.

High School Students Celebrate Other Cultures

"A world of difference is a world worth knowing" is the theme for the first World Cultures Day being held tomorrow at Andover High School. The event-packed day will mark the end of a week-long project celebrating the growing cultural diversity of students at the high school.

The day will begin with an assembly and guest speaker, Gretel Clark from the northeast area office of the Massachusetts Department of Education will discuss global interdependence.

Following the assembly, classes will have an opportunity to learn from peers who are natives of other cultures, including American Field Service exchange students and foreign language students who have visited other countries. Countries being represented are France, India, Germany, Taiwan, Ireland, Chile, Peru, Yugoslavia, China, Japan, Jamaica, Cambodia, Venezuela, Australia, Panama, Sweden, Tonga, Dominican Republic, Korea, Brazil, Belgium and Spain.

Other events that took place during the week were a media center-sponsored student cultural contest; a special presentation prepared by the Immigrant City Archives displaying how diverse cultures have contributed to the history of the Merrimack Valley; and special lunch menus throughout the week prepared by Richard Barron, director of food services.

The Sanborn Elementary School band will entertain the nursery school students of St. Robert's Country Day School on Haggetts Pond Road on Friday. The one-hour concert will be directed by Alan Menkkinen, music coordinator at Sanborn.

An entertainment group will also be featured. A group of students under the direction of Carole Prashad will play the orf, a rhythm instrument. Students Challenge Chess Master

A group of chess whizzes at Andover's middle schools put a master to the test.

Students and staff from Doherty and West middle schools challenged chess master Zakhar Maymin to a simultaneous chess tourney. The match was held March 31 in the West media center.

Doherty's participants were students Aaron Miller, Vikram Penumalli and Aaron Russo and teachers Steven Crowley and Peter Hall.

Challengers from West included Dr. Maymin's own son, Philip, along with schoolmates Brian Blouin, Ziad Dehni, Mark Elzweig, David Lai, David Lippman, Jose Marrero, Albert Shenker, Aaron Waxler, Roman Zheleznyakov and teacher Tom McKenna.

Although some of the challengers waged quite a battle, Dr. Maymin emerged undefeated. "Actually who one?" said Mr. McKenna, West guidance counselor. "Everyone."

Dr. Zakhar Maymin squares off against his son, Philip, left, and Philip's schoolmate Ziad Dehni.

Pike Students, Teachers Visit Quebec City

Fifty-one students and faculty members from the Pike School will leave for a three-day weekend in Quebec City tomorrow morning. The trip will enable these French students to practice their language skills in a European-like city.

Their itinerary on Friday and Saturday includes seeing sites of historic and cultural importance and shopping. The group is staying at Loew's Le Concorde located on the Grande Allee. Dinner on Saturday night will be in a restored farmhouse on the island of Orleans in the St. Lawrence River. After a French country meal, the students will have an opportunity to join a dance troupe in performing French country dancing. Sunday's schedule includes a visit to the new Musee de la Civilisation before the group leaves for the return trip to Andover.

For the past month eighth-graders have been preparing for this trip. Using film and printed media, French teachers have been informing students about cultural differences and the background of sights they will see.

The trip, an extension of Pike's classroom program, is under the direction of French department head Sylvia Soule. Students enrolled in the upper school begin their formal study of French or Spanish in sixth grade and Latin in seventh.

Junior League To Show Off House

The Junior League of Boston will open its 19th annual Decorator's Show House and Garden Tour Saturday, April 29, at 33 Marlborough St. in Boston's historic Back Bay.

Built in 1870 by architects Emerson and Fehmer, the 19th-century row house marks the first downtown location ever chosen for the show house and garden tour. The house is owned by and on loan from 33 Marlborough St. Trust.

More than 25 decorators and interior designers have incorporated new and traditional ideas into 30 designated room areas of the five-level house and garden, resulting in three separate homes within the row house. Designers' challenges have been tackled and fantasies played out in every area of the house from the garden level to the formal duplex right on through to the light and airy penthouse, Junior League members said.

A special feature is the house's period wallpaper. The formal entrance is done in a jeweled tone: its Victorian floral design is embellished with gold leaf.

The house will be open to the public through May 26 Mondays from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.; Tuesday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.; Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sundays from noon to 5 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or through Ticketron.

Herb Society To Meet

The Herb Society of Andover will meet Monday, May 8, at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Rita Richardson, 23 Greenwood Road, Andover. A discussion about herbal combinations will follow the annual meeting. Members are requested to bring a herbal box lunch for swapping.

South Church Plans Mission Week

South Church will celebrate its annual Mission Week April 28 through May 7. Gordon Cosby, founder and pastor of the Church of the Savior in Washington, D.C., will be guest speaker at the regular 10:30 a.m. service Sunday, April 30.

The Church of the Savior was founded in 1947 as an independent church and represents one of the real models for mission activity in the country, South Church staff members said. With 700 members and a strong focus in the Adams-Morgan area of Washington, the church supports low-income housing for more than 1,000 people, a 34-bed infirmary, full-time street clinic, 25-apartment facility for the elderly, job training program and more than 100 other active mission projects.

The church is further known through the writings of one of its founding members, Elizabeth O'Connor. Her books, which include Call to Commitment, Journey Inward, Journey Outward, Our Many Selves and Cry Pain, Cry Hope, are among the best known Christian books of the last 20 years.

Mr. Cosby will speak on the biblical basis of God's call and its relationship to mission activities. All are welcome.

South Hosts All-Church Musical Friday Night

The third annual all-church musical and ice cream social at South Church in Andover will be held Friday, April 28, at 7:30 p.m. The theme of the show is "One World, Many Mansions!" focusing on the earth and all who live on it.

More than 60 people from South Church are involved in the production, which will include members of the sanctuary and children's choirs. The revue is under the direction of Linda Zimmerman, Susan Spollett, Ginny Mason, Keith Gould and Joan McElwain.

Songs from the show include "Let's get Together" from Parent Trap, "All for the Best" from Godspell, "He's my Brother—She's my Sister" by Connie Kaldor and "Singing with You" by Holly Near and Jeff Langley. There is no charge for the show.

The ice cream social, complete with make-your-own sundaes, will follow the show.

South Church staff members said past all-church musical nights played to full houses and advised coming early for the best seats.

Christian Band To Perform Sunday

Exact Change, a contemporary Christian band, will be featured Sunday, April 30, at the 10:30 a.m. service at BrookRidge Community Church. The group plays hard and soft rock Christian music and has performed at local coffee houses, churches and schools. Some of the pieces they will perform are Amy Grant's "You Were There All Along," "Lead Me On" and "Fade into You." The band consists of six musicians.

Six local actors will perform a play called The Bag People, illustrating the futility of a life of fulfilling one's desires. The characters carry bags and are in a consistently hunched-back position, trying to get their hands on anything and everything they can, church staff members said. At the end, an old man weighed down by a heavy load asks for someone to teach him how to do something else with his hands. Staffers said the moral of the story is that an accumulation of "things" is not an answer to being happy. "Our attitudes" is the theme for Sunday's service.

BrookRidge is seeking new talent for its musical departments, vocal and instrumental, and actors for its original plays and sketches. The church will train novices.

BrookRidge welcomes the public. Child care is available in "Promiseland" for infants to third-graders. Services are held at West Elementary School on Beacon Street.

Open House

The Somerville Hospital School of Nursing, 125 Lowell St., Somerville, will hold open house Wednesday, May 10 and 24, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Temple Emanuel Slates Workshops

Temple Emanuel of Andover, 7 Haggetts Pond Road, has scheduled two adult education learning workshops during the month of May. Both workshops, open to the community, are designed to acquaint participants with different aspects of Jewish meditation and will include relevant literature.

Joseph Cotton, executive director of the Psychological Center in Lawrence and a professor at Merrimack College, will discuss "The Jewish Meditative Experience" on Thursday, May 4, at 7:30 p.m. History and stories from old Hasidic Jewish masters will be interspersed with various techniques of Jewish meditation, and the presentation will include meditative and stress-reducing skills, as well as group meditation. Participants are asked to wear comfortable clothes.

Rabbi Avraham Greenbaum, a visitor from Israel, will speak on "The Art of Kabbalah Meditation: Finding the Lost Princess" on Monday, May 29, at 7:30 p.m. He will demonstrate how the use of words, chants and songs heighten awareness that allow expressions of inner needs, conflicts and desires.

Rabbi Greenbaum is a respected authority on the life and writings of Rabbi Nachman of Bratzlav (1772-1810), one of the originators and early leaders of the Hasidic movement in eastern Europe.

He devotes much of his professional work to the study of rabbinic texts and teaches Bible and Talmud in Israel and America. Rabbi Greenbaum was a former political commentator and producer for the British Broadcasting Corp.'s World Service.

The adult education committee of Temple Emanuel sponsors both workshops. Each session, including discussion period, will last approximately two hours.

Developer Has Until Aug. 9 To Complete Olympic Village

By Frank Messina

Showing some exasperation, the Planning Board gave the developer of Olympic Village one more chance to complete work on the 9-year-old subdivision.

With several angry homeowners in the audience Tuesday night, Arthur Kalogianis was told to clear up any remaining legal paperwork and street improvements by Aug. 9, or the town will "hire an attorney, pull the bonds and proceed to do the work," said board member Michael Houghton.

The public hearing was called to determine whether $62,000 in performance guarantee bonds posted in 1985 by Mr. Kalogianis should be seized by the town.

Last year, the developer was granted an extension to Aug. 9, 1989, to complete hydrant painting, drainage cleaning, landscaping and other street work. But that extension was contingent on clearing up legal work and enough physical improvements to gain street acceptances by last month's town meeting, said town Physical Planner Steve Colyer. Once approved at town meeting, town hall takes over responsibility for maintaining streets.

Mr. Kalogianis maintained he intends to complete all work by Aug. 9. Houghton, who has served on the board for nine years, said he has heard similar promises in the past.

"I guess I don't believe it when you say you're going to get (the work) done," said Houghton.

But, recognizing that a lawsuit was likely if the performance guarantee was taken, the board agreed to wait until Aug. 9.

Several Olympic Village homeowners angrily asked the town to take over the work now, but Colyer pointed out that a lawsuit would delay completion long past the board-imposed deadline.

Taking over a Kalogianis bond would not be a new experience for town officials. In 1987, the Planning Board seized $14,000 to complete work in another section of Olympic Village. Mr. Kalogianis sued the town, but eventually dropped the action when most of his money was returned. The remaining funds will be used to install storm grates in Acropolis Circle.

In 1985, a Kalogianis performance guarantee for Tea Lot Estates was taken by the town to complete street work. After an extended lawsuit and further negotiations, the town was given $39,559 to complete work on Bayberry, Teaberry and Blackberry lanes. Kalogianis eventually completed construction on the streets himself. The bond is still being held by the town pending a review with town legal counsel, said Colyer.

Business Seeks Permission For Helicopter Pad

By Frank Messina

Hoping to land permission to build a heliport for shuttling company executives between West Andover and New York City, a local business will ask the Zoning Board of Appeals for a special permit on May 4.

The helicopter pad would be located in a Mast Industries Inc. parking lot at 100 River Road, near Interstate 93, in a business district that includes the Marriott and Days Inn hotels.

Company officials say heliport use will be limited to picking up visiting executives at Logan Airport and transporting high-ranking officers to the firm's New York City headquarters.

If approved, it would be the first permit for helicopter use issued since a Sheraton Rolling Green permit expired in 1987.

But lately, interest in executive helicopter transportation has risen, said Town Planner Laura Hill.

Several other firms, including Digital Equipment Corp., have talked about applying for a heliport, said Ms. Hill.

Although the Sheraton's permit expired when Harry Axelrod sold the hotel, but kept the golf course where the landing pad was located, hotel officials have recently taken steps to procure a new permit.

Hotel engineer Craig Bland said Sheraton plans to reapply "hopefully, very soon." Helicopters would be used to commute important corporate guests between the hotel and Logan Airport, he said.

The hotel recently passed the first test—approval from the state aeronautics commission, said Mr. Bland.

Although she has no objections to heliports in West Andover business zones, Ms. Hill would like to see corporate collaboration on developing a central landing area.

"I would hate to see five or six (heliports) in that area from a safety standpoint," she said.

David Graham, chief inspector for the Massachusetts Aeronautical Commission, said requests for his office to approve heliport plans have seen a modest increase over the past year.

"They (Merrimack Valley businesses) are probably afraid of the construction going on in Boston," he said.

The inspector said he had no problem approving the Mast Industries site.

There are few residential dwellings in the area, and the flight path should run along Interstate 93, minimizing noise impact, he said.

Mast Industries is a women's apparel designer based in Andover. Mark Oswald, vice president of human resources, said the heliport would "make us more competitive, more responsive to our customers. Speed is essential to any business."

He emphasized that the heliport would see a low volume of activity. "We're certainly not talking six flights daily," he said.

Ms. Hill said ZBA will likely ask about screening the helicopter pad from an I-93 on-ramp running alongside the parking lot and the amount of traffic to the heliport.

Teachers' Grant Brings Music To School

By Lisa A. Boudreau

Two years ago Lawrence sixth-grade teachers Mary McCloskey and Anne Cook had an idea to bring a little music to the students in the city's public schools—little classical music, that is.

The two wrote an educational grant proposal to heighten appreciation of the arts in the schools. The final results of their combined effort was announced last spring. Their proposal was one of four chosen to win an Educational Program Award from the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities. The award provided funding for a series of youth concerts by the Boston Classical Orchestra.

This is the first year that the orchestra's Youth Concert Series has come to the area. Under the direction of Harry Ellis Dickson, the orchestra visited the Frost and Arlington schools on Tuesday to talk about their individual careers in music and involve the students in the performance itself.

Mr. Dickson is also associate conductor laureate of the Boston Pops and conductor and founder of the Boston Classical Orchestra Youth Concert series.

Mr. Dickson has been described by his contemporaries as "that rare soul, an adult who remembers what it was like to be young, who loves young people and understands them, and who wishes to share with them that magic kingdom of the mind where music is the key."

"This is such an exciting event for the kids," said Ms. McCloskey, an Andover resident.

The Lawrence concerts are an outgrowth of a pilot program presented in the Roxbury schools. Those concerts were so successful that the Classical Orchestra's board of trustees launched a campaign to raise funds to expand the project into a series of performances.

On May 2, members of the Classical Orchestra will visit a number of other schools in Lawrence for a demonstration and performance of the instruments in the different orchestral sections.

May 8 will be the culmination of the concert series, with a full Classical Orchestra concert at the high school auditorium. The program will include pieces from Beethoven's Symphony No. 5 to Ritchie Valen's pop hit "La Bamba."

Committee, SHED Discuss Tenancy Contract

By Lisa A. Boudreau

The School Committee and a number of angry abutters of the Shawsheen School discussed the Shawsheen Extended Day Care program's portable classroom at Tuesday night's regular meeting. The committee mapped out areas they would like to see covered in a legal contract with SHED directors for tenancy on the Shawsheen School property.

The contract was one of the conditions the committee listed before it voted in March to allow the portable classroom, providing the town voted to approve the funding.

Three weeks have passed since town meeting voted to loan the program money to purchase the

The Andover TOWNSMAN won first place for its special centennial section in the Massachusetts Press Association newspaper competition.

The 128-page section celebrating The TOWNSMAN's 100th birthday was published on July 21. It includes articles on the history of the paper and the town and people it has covered.

TOWNSMAN editor Robert E. Finne- ran accepted the award on the paper's behalf at the state press association's annual meeting at the Newton Marriott Friday.

Judges for the annual competition this year were members of the Maine Press Association. Of the special issue, the judges said: "Has to be a first with an overwhelming job—depth, detail, graphics, it is all there."

This is the second award for the section, which garnered third prize in the New England Press Association's contest in January.

OPINION

Controlling Choppers

While there should not be too much objection to the issuance of a special permit for a West Andover industry to install a heliport on its property, there is much to be said for the contention of planners that the general area should not be infested with such facilities.

Mast Industries Inc., a River Road women's apparel designer, has petitioned the Zoning Board of Appeals for a permit to install a helicopter pad on its property in order to accommodate its business.

The firm contends such a facility is needed for transportation of executives and others from Logan Airport and New York points as part of its business operation.

And, while Andover planners have no serious objections to the installation of such a facility, there is concern that the allowance of one heliport could lead to several in the West Andover area.

There are, of course, several major industries in the West Andover area. Also, there are motels and inns which could avail themselves of such a facility as a convenience to their clients.

Sheraton Rolling Green had a heliport for a number of years that was used infrequently, but still available and permissible by both town and federal authorities.

Attention to the possibility of a number of heliports in the area seems logical at this point in time.

The traffic situation in Boston is destined to worsen over the next several years, due to highway construction that will begin in earnest this summer.

Many executives visit the West Andover industrial area on a daily basis, some even arranging for overnight stays at the area hotels.

Easier access to the section of the community would facilitate their activity and avoid the complex problem of dealing with Boston and other highway traffic.

Helicopters have become a popular means of conveyance for business executives, hence the need for heliports in the area.

The big problem stems from the possibility of a number of such facilities being built in the West Andover section of town.

There should be some controls agreed upon limiting the number of heliports allowed in the area.

From a safety factor alone such regulation should be considered, even though the flight patterns follow the interstate highway rather than residential areas.

It is suggested that industrial and motel people get together and agree upon a limit to the request for heliport facilities, even if it means some sort of shuttle transportation.

Obviously there would not be a multitude of daily flights, but with proper controls and limited facilities, a safer and smoother operation would be assured, as well as minimal inconvenience to the neighborhood.

Just A Thought

By Bob Finneran

The separation of Andover and North Andover now appears to be complete, thanks to the U.S. Postal Service.

Up until recently, Andover was part of the service area the post office considered within the realm of local delivery, but no more.

Seems over in North Andover, there are two large mail depositories for mail dropoff. One clearly designates mail to be processed for out-of-town delivery (or, put simply, out of the Greater Lawrence area).

And, until recently, the second postal box was the receptacle for mail going to North Andover, Lawrence, Methuen and Andover.

But, for some unknown reason, Andover has been crossed off that box and now must be considered as out of the area.

All of this started back around 1855 when Andover was a single community designated as North Parish and South Parish, probably to keep the horses going in the proper direction.

Then there came a dispute between north and south (not quite as serious as Civil War proportions, but serious enough) over a new fire truck, or wagon as they were known

North Parishioners wanted it in their section of the community, while the south insisted it should come to this section of the town.

The result was that the north got the fire wagon, told the south to go it on their own and became officially incorporated as North Andover.

Over the years competitiveness reigned, particularly in the athletic front, where Johnson (North Andover) and Punchard (Andover) became traditional rivals in all sorts of sporting events, the Punchards traditionally winning on the gridiron, the Johnsons on the basketball courts, with baseball pretty much up for grabs.

The rivalry was suspended for several years and renewed only the past couple of years.

There was even talk at one time about the two towns getting back together as a single community to share in the cost of municipal operations, but the idea found little support.

Now it seems the postal service has perpetrated a permanent rupture in whatever hope there ever was of getting together except socially.

It's almost like Texas where the mail boxes are designated for Texas delivery, and anywhere else is classified as foreign mail.

File under another of those interesting signs!

DOWN THE YEARS

100 Years Ago — April 1889

The special town meeting held Friday last had a good attendance. It was voted to divide the town into two precincts, the second one to be in Ballardvale.

It was also voted that a new schoolhouse be erected on the Joseph W. Smith lot on Andover street.

After considerable discussion an appropriation of $1300 was made in addition to the $1500 in March for the purpose of establishing a proper electrical lighting system during the dark hours from a half-hour after sunset until 12:30 o'clock.

It was voted to increase the salary of the town clerk from $50 to $150 a year and the treasurer from $200 to $300.

The selectmen reported that at present there is no suitable place in the town to build a lock-up.

Officer Gillespie took a ball from the boys on Saturday afternoon, while they were playing baseball, the lamp in the center having been broken by it.

75 Years Ago — April 1914

The ninth annual K. of C. ball will be held this evening in the town hall.

On account of the storm yesterday the no-school signal rang for the three lower grades.

Patrick H. McGovern, a popular employee of the Lawrence Gas Co., has purchased a new Ford runabout.

Charles Buchan of the firm of Buchan and Francis has purchased a new Ford automobile.

Miss Cynthia Flint has been detained from her duties as teacher in the Ballard Vale school this week by an attack of tonsillitis.

The firm of Smith & Manning received a carload of Bowker's fertilizer this week in anticipation of the demand for this staple article.

50 Years Ago — April 1939

Ground has been broken this week for a new dormitory at Abbot Academy. The new building, made possible by a gift of Mrs. Emily F. Abbey Gill of Springfield, will accommodate 26 students and six teachers. Of brick construction and colonial in design, the dormitory is the first step in the development plan for the Academy which it is hoped will be realized by means of the Second Century Fund.

Abbot Academy opened for its first session on May 6, 1829, so that it is now one hundred and ten years old.

There is an increasing interest in the concert of lighter and popular music to be given under the auspices of Christ Church on Friday evening, at half past eight o'clock in the Andover Memorial Auditorium. The program committee has selected a program they feel very sure will mean an interesting and delightful evening for everyone attending. Because the orchestra is composed of members of the Boston Symphony and conducted by so well-known and prominent a member of the orchestra as Arthur Fiedler, the success of the concert as to performance and fine feeling is assured.

THE PUBLIC FORUM

Examining Child Care Laws

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

At present the town assumes some responsibility for child care by providing space for SHED and overseeing its program. The town cannot fit such a program into its budget, and it is worried about insurance liability.

The School Committee, according to one of its members, feels that child care is not its responsibility as educators. A few cities around the country have recently shown that they do not agree; they provide child care in their school budgets.

The federal government is also interested in child care. Last year a bill supported by the administration would have provided funds for child care in public, religious and independent centers. Called an Act for Better Child Care Services (the ABC bill), it was defeated, largely on grounds centering on religion.

Under the ABC bill, religiously affiliated centers would have been eligible provided that, 1) they did not discriminate in admissions and employment, and 2) they avoided religious instruction, worship and other sectarian activities.

Religious interests objected to these restrictions on the ground of religious freedom. Other opponents, more interested in separation of religion and government (church and state), said that no ABC funds should go to religious institutions, even with restrictions.

A new bill this year adds a compromise amendment: no ABC provider, public or non-public, may discriminate; but centers that receive less than 80 percent of their funds from the government may exercise limited preference in hiring people and admitting children who have had a pre-existing relationship with the institution or organization. Among other things, this takes into account the fact that churches now provide approximately one-third of the nation's child care services.

This amendment (and other changes) has converted some key legislative opponents who wanted "equal treatment" for religious child care providers. There is still a long way to go, however, before enactment; and plenty of lawsuits after that.

Under such an ABC act, Andover's school system (and other institutions and groups) would be eligible for child care grants. As it is now, SHED must charge fees; it also offers scholarships. Many people (of whom I am one) feel that people who need child care while they are working but cannot afford SHED's fees should not have to ask for scholarship aid as a matter of self-respect and of town responsibility.

Andover's citizens and officials should be discussing what the town should do about child care if ABC becomes law. So should SHED.

'Friends Of Club' Restate Goals

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

There seems to be a misunderstanding with regard to the goals of the Friends of Andover Country Club, which has recently requested that the Andover Zoning Board of Appeals enforce their prior decisions regarding the Andover Country Club. As a member of that group, I wish to set the record straight.

The Friends of Andover Country Club do not wish to see the club close or any reduction in services or facilities offered to its members. To the contrary, we wish to see the club prosper as a top-class private facility, envied by all.

Recent changes in the scope of services offered at the Andover Country Club not only diminish the perception of exclusivity of this fine club, but also have the potential to lessen the overall quality of the entire surrounding neighborhood.

It is obvious that significant investment has been made to upgrade the club restaurant, lodging and function facilities. This investment is welcomed and I am sure all members would agree that the enhanced facilities are a great improvement on what existed previously. Unfortunately, it would seem that this investment is driving a new, public-oriented commercial direction for the Andover Country Club.

I would invite anyone to take a short walk or drive up to the club and look at the size of the parking lot. This parking area is far larger than it ever was in the past and is obviously much larger than is needed for club members, for guests visiting for golf purposes or for guests at social functions of the kind previously hosted. The enlarged lot is an example of the commercial expansion of the Andover Country Club in recent years.

I would have you consider that there has been a fundamental shift in focus toward outside functions, restaurant and hotel operations contrary to the club's commitments made in support of enhancing the property and contrary to the conditions set by the Zoning Board of Appeals when it permitted the creation of enhanced facilities.

To date, the Friends of Andover Country Club have been focusing attention on collecting evidence of violation of the zoning board conditions and have presented findings to the board for their consideration. Also, a cease and desist order request has been sent to the building inspector, citing the specific condition that has been violated. As more evidence comes to light or decisions are made with regard to the operations of the Andover Country Club, every attempt will be made to pursue further information and keep you and your readers informed.

Not Just An Ornament

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

On Saturday, April 14, a Betsy Ross American Flag was stolen from our home on 22 Rock-O-Dundee Road. This flag was not just an ornament for our house. It was a gift given to me from my wife and children and was something special I had desired for our new home here in Andover.

This flag represented to us a belief in the possibilities for the future with a ray of hope for the tragedy that surrounds us all today and a courage to fight and right the wrongs in this world. Our flag demonstrated a pride and respect for all those who have fought for our freedom with the dream that all our children will have a positive contribution for America and the world.

On Patriot's Day, as I looked forward to hanging out our flag, I found it only to have been stolen. We lost much more than a flag on that day and I'm sure the thieves got much less.

Brightening The Future

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

April 22 was Girl Scout Leader's Day. Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council has 2,500 leaders who serve over 14,000 girls. Thanks to these caring volunteers, thousands of girls are having fun in a safe and positive environment.

Sound investments promise high returns with a minimum of risk. Girl scouting is one sure investment that yields excellent benefits for girls and their communities, requiring only an enthusiastic commitment of time and talent.

The women and men who volunteer to lead Girl Scout troops are making substantial investments in our community. They are stepping in to see that our girls do not become part of the growing group of young people abusing alcohol and drugs, dropping out of school, facing unemployment and jeopardizing their future.

Girl Scout leaders form key partnerships with girls. They help girls realize their worth, develop sound values and decision-making skills and turn potentially destructive behavior into positive action. These leaders invest time and support. Girls gain self-confidence and begin exploring their future roles as women. With their personal lives in focus, girls move on to become responsible citizens and make valuable contributions to society.

A good investment pays out dividends for many years. The investment of a Girl Scout leader helps ensure a positive future for girls and for our community and it gives volunteers the benefit of knowing that they have helped mold tomorrow's leaders.

SPORTING LIFE

Little League Opener To Be Special

By Rick Harrison

Lights! Camera! Action!

Opening day for the Andover Little League will be Saturday, May 6, and it's going to be something special this year.

Ceremonies, which have drawn enough interest from three television stations to be pushed back one week, should achieve the level one would expect from the home of the world's sixth best Little League team.

The Andover National All-Stars spectacular run to the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pennsylvania last summer continues to be news, earning special attention from local TV station Channel 56 which is currently putting together a program on Little League baseball that will focus on this town.

Channel 56 cameras will be on hand opening day at the Chandler Road field, as they already have been for pre-season practice sessions held by last year's Town Championship rivals the Red Sox and Cardinals.

Channels 4 and 7 have also expressed an interest in filming highlights of opening day for telecast on their nightly sportscasts, but nothing definite has been arranged by those two Boston outlets.

Opening Day ceremonies will kick off at 8 a.m. when players from the 10 Major League teams line up on the field.

At approximately 8:45 a.m. league president Bill Novelline will welcome the assembled players, parents, politicians and fans.

Father John Collins of St. Robert's will offer the invocation, and a color guard from the Lawrence Marine Corps Reserve will raise the colors.

The members of last year's Andover National All-Star squad, which won district, bi-district, state and regional titles en route to Williamsport and a sixth place finish in the world, will then be acknowledged.

The first annual Ted Boudreau Memorial Award, symbolic of the town championship, will be presented to Red Sox manager Joe Iarrobino by Mrs. Theodore Boudreau.

The plaque is named for Andover's own "Teddy Ballgame," the extremely popular and respected Doherty Middle School science teacher and freshman baseball coach who passed away recently.

Mr. B, as he was known to all fortunate enough to come in contact with this warm, generous and gifted man, played college (Seton Hall) and minor league baseball prior to coaching the Andover High varsity for five years and the freshmen for 25 years.

The Red Sox earned the award by defeating the Cardinals in last year's best-of-3 title series, reversing the results of the previous year.

Invited local government officials include the Andover board of selectmen,

Rep. Sue Tucker, town manager Ken Mahoney and Recreation Department official Selma Fleeder. Several of the

Lady Warriors Split In Softball

By Rick Harrison

Swinging some mean aluminum for the first time this spring, the Andover High girls' varsity softball team scored 13 runs in the first three innings and pounded out 14 hits en route to a 16-11 victory over Merrimack Valley Conference Large School rival Billerica at the West Middle School field last week.

The Lady Warriors' offensive explosion enabled them to split two vacation week games, the other contest resulting in a loss to Small School power Methuen.

Despite a modest 1-3 league record, coach Pat Thomson's squad entered this week's play just one game behind Large School leader Haverhill (2-2).

"Although our won-lost record isn't very exciting I'm still encouraged by the way we've been playing," said coach Thomson. "We're using a lot of younger kids."

"We had a few key players away during the vacation (college visits, etc.). I'm sure other schools were in the same situation, but now (classes in session) things should get back to normal."

Junior Nicole Ricci, making her first pitching start this season, blanked Billerica for three innings while Andover built a commanding 13-0 lead.

The Warriors jumped ahead 4-0 in the first, then added two runs in the second and seven runs on seven hits in the third stanza.

The Indians chipped away against senior Capt. Cara Workman over the next three innings, and nicked Ricci for two runs when she returned in the seventh, but the deficit was too much to overcome.

Ricci collected the victory with four frames of three-hit hurling, whiffing two and walking two.

terfielder Darlene Prochniak, whose starting opportunity came when junior Michelle DeStefano went to Europe to play ice hockey, continued to excel at the plate with 3-for-5 and three RBI. Tricia Doyle and Nicole Ricci also drilled three hits apiece, Kerry Lynch contributed two safeties, and other singles came from Lisa Foresta.

Alison Burke, Andrea Duffy, sophomore Maura Everett and Cara

Workman.

Defensive standouts for Andover were Ricci, who played first base when not on the mound, and Prochniak.

Frosh Off To Fast Start

By Rick Harrison

Consecutive complete-game pitching performances by Todd Allard, Bobby Sheehan and lefthander Jim Hanning got the Andover freshman baseball team off to a flying 3-0 start, the young Warriors edging Lowell (5-4), Central Catholic (6-3) and Peabody (4-2) last week.

Allard fired a crisp five-hitter at Lowell, striking out eight and walking two (the first two batters he faced).

Sheehan came back with a one-hit gem against Central, whiffing four, walking five and hurling no-hit ball over the first six innings as Andover rallied for the triumph on the varsity field.

Hanning's three-hit masterpiece over previously-undefeated and reportedly-strong Peabody included 10 strikeouts and four walks. All three safeties were scratch hits, two of which came in the first and two of which were infield singles.

In all three games Andover notched the winning run in the sixth inning.

Twice the young Warriors battled from behind, notching four runs in the sixth against Central to overcome a 3-2 deficit and three in the sixth against Peabody to erase a 2-1 deficit.

Andover was scheduled to play Chelmsford (Monday) and Methuen (yesterday) earlier this week, and the locals host the Lawrence frosh tomorrow afternoon (3:15 p.m.).

Andover, 5-4

Andover led all the way against Lowell at the latter's Shedd Park, pushing across the eventual winning run in the sixth when Matt Harris was hit by a pitch and Matt Daniels doubled him across.

That made it 5-2 and provided enough of a cushion to withstand a two-run Lowell rally in the bottom of the sixth.

Bobby Sheehan contributed two singles and one RBI, Jim Landry spanked two singles, and other safeties in the 10-hit attack came from Todd Allard, Dan Waitkevitch, Matt Harris, Ryan Legrow, Jim Hanning and Matt Daniels.

Waitkevitch was the defensive standout in leftfield with several nice catches, including a running grab.

Andover, 6-3

Bobby Sheehan barely missed a no-hitter against Central Catholic, but it still took a run in the fifth and four in the sixth to pull it out.

Andover resident Mark Hopkinson sailed through the first five innings on the mound for Central, but ran into trouble in the sixth and ultimately made an early and unscheduled exit.

Dan Waitkevitch dropped a suicide niak in centerfield-er.

Billerica notched one run in the fourth, three in the fifth, five in the sixth and two in the seventh. Andover mopped up with a run in the fifth and two in the bottom of the sixth.

Methuen, 4-2 overall and 3-1 league before this week, took advantage of numerous walks from three Andover hurlers.

In the second inning, for example, the winners netted 12 of their 15 runs despite managing just one basehit.

The Rangers also received a combined one-hit shut-out from starting pitcher Tricia Murray and reliever Michelle Mignault.

The Lady Warriors were on the road earlier this week at Lowell (Monday) and undefeated Wilmington (yesterday). Tomorrow they host Haverhill at the West Middle School.

Tennis Teams Stay Undefeated

By Rick Harrison

Surprise! Surprise!

The Andover High boys' and girls' varsity tennis teams remained undefeated atop the Merrimack Valley Conference standings last week, both sweeping past Methuen, Billerica and Lowell to improve to 6-0 overall.

The two defending league champs appear unstoppable, although the Chelmsford girls and Billerica boys could challenge the Golden Warriors' supremacy the second time around.

The Andover girls struggled past Chelmsford 3-2 earlier this season, while the Andover boys' 4-1 conquest of Billerica last week was far more difficult than the final score indicates.

Earlier this week both AHS squads faced Wilmington (yesterday), and the highlight there was to be the individual showdown between unbeaten Jeff Hechemy and undefeated Steve Cutone.

Cutone, 7-0 this year and 51-4 in his MVC career, will be looking to avenge four earlier defeats to Hechemy in previous matches over the years.

Tomorrow Haverhill provides the opposition, the Andover girls home at the Rec Park courts and the boys traveling to Haverhill (both 3:30 p.m. matches).

Andover Boys

The Golden Warriors defeated both Methuen and Billerica by similar 4-1 margins.

Methuen actually won only two games in eight sets, but collected its point at third singles when AHS was forced to forfeit.

"Vacation and a scheduling mixup for the match creamed us," explained coach Mike Wartman. "The match was postponed Tuesday because our courts were too wet, and when we made it up Wednesday we had only six players available."

The half-dozen who were on hand experienced absolutely no trouble with the Rangers.

Senior No. 1 Jeff Hechemy remained undefeated and moved closer to the incredible 80 career win mark with a 6-0, 6-0 romp over Seung Park.

Sophomore Chris Chiang performed similar 6-0, 6-0 surgery on Methuen's Chris Gagnon.

In doubles, Rob Label and Swedish transfer student Mike Daun blasted the Rangers' Derek Donegan and Steve Giordano, 6-0, 6-1.

The No. 2 doubles tandem of sophomore Tim Sullivan and senior Adam Mazonson completed the rout with a 6-1, 6-0 blitz of Joe Bretton and Steve DeSimone.

Previously-undefeated Billerica was not as cooperative.

The Indians took three of the five matches to three sets, handed Chris Chiang his first varsity loss in league play, and split a pair of tiebreakers with the Warriors.

The only easy point came from Mr. Automatic, Jeff Hechemy destroying opponent Tim Gibson 6-0, 6-0 to complete the week without losing a game.

Billerica's Scott Christo apparently played the match of his life against Chris Chiang, winning a first set tiebreaker 7-6 (7-3), losing the second set 2-6, and rallying to capture the final set 6-3.

The loss was Chiang's first after 22 straight MVC victories.

"Chris played well but I guess the other boys played like he's never played before," said coach Wartman. "Even his own teammates were stunned by how well he played."

Peter Kannam came from behind at third singles to edge Conan Dailey of Billerica 3-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Andover's No. 1 doubles team, senior Scott Clementi and junior Mike Tiberi, also started slowly but rallied for a straight-set 7-6 (7-4 tiebreaker), 6-3 decision over stubborn Mike Raybold and Tom DiNanno.

The second doubles' duo of Rob Label and Mike Daun overcame Bob Cataldo and Ty Munson of BMHS 3-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Junior Varsity Opens With Bang

By Dan Grams

The Andover High School Junior Varsity baseball team kicked off their 1989 campaign with a bang, erupting for 19 runs in their season debut against Westford Academy.

Joe Marinaro's outstanding pitching and Bryan Smith's timely hitting were the key to a 6-5 victory against Lowell, but Andover came up on the short end of an 8-1 decision versus Central Catholic.

Andover 19 - Westford Academy 9

Andover opened their 1989 season with a 19-9 victory over Westford Academy on a day filled with sunshine, rain and snow squalls. Andover's hot bats ripped 15 safeties including six extra base hits.

Mike Henry and Joe Marinaro hurled three stanzas apiece. Henry was crowned with the win.

The Junior Warriors pushed across eight tallies in the opening inning and added runs in every following inning. Jeff Hurley and Bryan Smith's run-producing singles were the key hits in the first inning.

Smith and Marinaro finished with three hits each while Dave Carriere and Albie Minichiello had a pair. Dana Orlando, Henry, Sean Gill, Hurley and Matt Orlando joined the hit parade while Kevin Murphy blasted an opposite field round tripper in the fourth.

Andover 6 - Lowell 5

Andover relied on the arms of Joe Marinaro and Dave Carriere and the clutch hitting of Bryan Smith to pave the way to victory over Lowell.

Marinaro battled back from a rough third inning, limiting the Red Raiders to one hit over the final four innings. He settled for a five hitter, striking out five while walking five.

Carriere was equally effective behind the plate, throwing out four of six would-be base stealers. His final throw out ended the game with a Lowell runner in scoring position.

Smith collected three hits for the second consecutive game and delivered the game's winning RBI.

Trailing 4-1, Andover had three runs in the third. Smith walked and stole second, Bret Hammond chased Smith home with an opposite field single and stole second. Marinaro followed with a long double, scoring Hammond, and was eventually plated on a Hurley single.

Andover scored what proved to be the winning run in the home half of the sixth. Marino picked up his third hit with a single, followed by a Hurley hit. Walks to Kevin Murphy and Matt Orlando pushed across one run while Smith's shot brought home the other.

Andover collected 12 hits, but nine base runners were stranded. Smith and Marinaro had three hits, Carriere and Hammond had single safeties and Dana Orlando and Jeff Hurley had a pair.

Central 8 - Andover 1

Central capitalized on all the Golden Warriors' misfortune for a 8-1 win.

Sophomore Brett Hammond allowed six hits while fanning five and allowing two earned runs.

Chris Hall saw his first mound action in almost two years, hurling the last inning.

Andover's lone threat came in the sixth inning as Hammond, Matt Orlando and Albie Minichiello had hits.

Matt Orlando turned in a fine all-around game at shortstop, handling eight chances flawlessly, and contributed two hits. Minichiello had Andover's only RBI safety.

Pony League Tryout On Weekend

The Andover Blue and Gold Pony League baseball teams will hold their annual spring tryouts this Saturday and Sunday, April 29 and 30, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. both days at the Andover High varsity and JV fields.

All 13-year-old candidates should report to the fields at 1 p.m. both days, while 14- and 15-year-old candidates should report at 3 p.m. both days.

A third tryout for those unable to attend the first two is tentatively scheduled for the following Saturday at 1 p.m. The rainout dates will also be the following weekend, same times and site.

To be eligible players must not reach their 16th birthday prior to August 1, 1989.

Both Blue and Gold will compete in the revamped Greater Reading Suburban Pony League against teams from Reading, North Reading, Wilmington, Lynnfield, Stoneham, North Andover and Winthrop.

Andover has dominated the league since entering four summers ago. Both Blue and Gold won their division titles four straight years. Gold won the overall league championship in 1985 and '86, while Blue shared the crown with Lynnfield in '87 and edged Gold 6-5 and 8-5 in the best-of-3 finals last year to win it outright.

Both teams will select between 15-18 players and all positions are open.

The Blue team will be coached by Joe Iarrobino (474-0523), Red Harris (475-7404) and Dick Allard (470-0273), while Rick Harrison (458-7100 after 6 p.m.) and Dan Grams (475-7423) will handle the Gold team.

Anyone wishing further information on the tryouts should contact any of the above-mentioned coaches.

The favorite at race tracks wins only about a quarter of the time.

"After the first sets of each match it looked as though we were in trouble," said coach Wartman. "We had lost three of five and had another go to a tiebreaker. But fortunately we were able to turn things around in all but Chris' (Chiang) match.

"It was by far our toughest test of the season."

The loss left coach Sam Colangelo's Billerica crew at 4-1 overall.

Andover won all but four games in the three singles matches to put Lowell in its proper place.

Last year the Red Raiders handed Andover its lone head-to-head match loss and finishing in a tie for the league title with Andover.

Jeff Hechemy annihilated Greg Landry 6-1, 6-0, Chris Chiang stopped Doug Lapoint, 6-1, 6-0, and Peter Kannam dumped Tom Farley 6-1, 6-2.

In double Scott Clementi and Mike Tiberio outclassed Jim Silveria and Kevin Welch 6-1, 6-2.

Rob Label and Mike Daun were beaten 7-5, 6-4 by Brett Carroll and Roger Lang.

Andover Girls

The Billerica girls also provided some rugged opposition for Andover, which nonetheless swept doubles and won two of three singles confrontations to stretch its unprecedented MVC win streak to 50 consecutive matches.

The marathon 4-1 battle included a pair

Track Team Takes Invitational

By Rick Harrison

Freshman Nicole Angelos won the 220 yard dash and anchored the victorious 440 sprint relay squad, igniting the talented Andover High girls' varsity track team to its second straight Wilmington Invitational Meet championship last weekend.

The Lady Warriors, 2-0-0 thus far in dual meets and winner of 10 straight as it seeks a second consecutive Merrimack Valley Conference title, piled up 96 points to slip past runner-up Reading High (90 points).

This was the reverse order of finish from the previous week's Haverhill Invitational for boys, Reading nosing out Andover for that title.

Tewksbury was the only other team close in the 12-school field, the Red-gals piling up 81 points for third place.

Andover, which nipped Winthrop by a half-point in this meet last spring, had three winners altogether.

Angelos broke the tape in 27.5 to capture the 220, and the other individual victor was senior Tri-Capt. Diane Hincley who clocked 2:30.3 in the 880 run.

Joining Angelos on the 440 relay team were freshman Jill Ippolito, senior Tri-Capt. Jennifer Lee and freshman Maureen Maginnis.

Senior Jackie Kupa unleashed a 34'8 1/4" toss in the shot put for second place, while the mile relay quartet of junior Brenna Cronin, Amy Heseltine, senior Tri-Capt. Kathy Radulski and Hincley was also second in 4:25.1.

Placing third for AHS were Jill Ippolito in the 100 dash (13.7) and Brenna Cronin in the 440 dash (65.1).

Individual fourths were taken by Brenna Cronin in the triple jump (32'5 1/2"), Kathy Radulski in the 330 low hurdles (50.7) and junior Kathy Boness in the two-mile (12:44.0).

The Warriors completed a strong showing in the relays with a fourth in the two-mile event, the team of senior Diane Hevehan, freshman Grace Perry, junior Melissa Salazar and Jen Ashlock crossing in 11:23.5.

Finishing fifth for Andover were junior Krista Nickerson in the triple jump (32'3"), sophomore Heather Rotondi in the high jump (4'8"), Maureen Maginnis in the 100 dash (13.8) and junior Michelle Toth in the mile (5:48.0).

Rounding out the AHS pointscorers with sixth place finishes were Kara Slavin in the discus (68'-9 1/2"), Krista Nickerson in the 330 hurdles (54.5), Heather Rotondi in the 100-meter hurdles (17.6) and Amy Heseltine in the 440 dash (67.6).

The Andover girls returned to MVC dual meet action this afternoon, hosting Lawrence High at the Eugene V. Lovely oval.

Legion Tryouts Set

Andover's Post 8 American Legion 1989 baseball team will hold registration and tryouts Saturday, April 30, at 5 p.m., Saturday, May 6, at 6 p.m., and Sunday, May 7, at 5 p.m. at Phillips Academy's varsity field.

Tryouts are limited to Andover residents, regardless of school affiliation, whether varsity or junior varsity squads, or without any school affiliation.

Any Andover resident who is 16 years of age prior to Aug. 1, 1989, and will not reach 19 years of age prior to Aug. 1, 1989, is eligible.

Unless previous arrangements have been made with the Andover Legion manager, all candidates must attend a minimum of two sessions to be considered. College student candidates who meet the age criteria but are away at college during tryouts will receive consideration if the team manager is notified. No exception to the rules will be granted.

Last year's team, which split its two games with Lynn, the eventual state and northeast champion, included players from Andover High School, Phillips Academy, Brooks School, Choate-Rosemary Academy and William and Mary College.

The team will play a 22-game schedule against the following teams: Zone 8A, Haverhill, Methuen, Lawrence, Swampscott, Wakefield; Zone A, Beverly, Lynn, Peabody, Revere, Salem, Saugus.

The season starts June 12 and, except for two qualifying tournament teams, must complete its schedule by July 29. No games are scheduled between June 29 and July 7.

For further information, contact Al Pelletier, team manager.

Parents Plan Preschool Park

Penguin Park, a community playground for children from infancy to 6 years old, will revitalize an almost unknown playground site on Iceland-Road off Route 133 near Shawsheen Square in Andover.

As the street name suggests, some time ago this was the site of an icehouse that stored blocks of ice sliced from a local pond and shipped to area businesses and homes.

Parents of preschool children hope to transform this spot into a safe and stimulating playspace for the area's under-6 population, which is in excess of 2,500 children.

The playground will include safety features specifically designed for preschool children. According to Dr. Joe Frost, a leading authority on play and its importance for children, there were more than 200,000 injuries to children in this country in 1986 from playground accidents that required emergency hospital treatment. Nearly 75 percent of these injuries were attributable to falls from equipment, particularly slides and climbing apparatus, onto asphalt, the ground or other hard surfaces, Dr. Frost said.

Frequently such injuries are the result of falls from climbing apparatus mismatched to the size of the child, too tall for safe use or improperly installed, he added.

Penguin Park will have a special base, such as pea stone or fibar, which minimize injuries from falls, and equipment scaled to the physical size and abilities of preschoolers. This will take into account that preschoolers, due to a limited ability to employ cause-effect thinking, rarely anticipate or appreciate apparent dangers. They also lack the motor skills required to avoid falling.

In order to make Penguin Park a reality, $30,000 must be raised. The fund-raising committee is seeking financial support from individuals, businesses and community organizations. Contributions are tax deductible and should be made payable to Town of Andover-Park and mailed to the town's department of finance and budgets, 36 Bartlet St., Andover, Mass.

Board Unveils Summer Dates

In contrast to last summer, which saw the Board of Selectmen meet just four times in three months, the board unveiled a far more ambitious schedule Monday night.

Prompted by new Chairman Gail Ralston, the board set a calendar that will include at least two meetings each month from June through August.

Meeting dates are as follows:

May 8 and 22; June 5 and a work session on either June 12 or 19; July 10, with a work session on July 24; Aug. 7 and 21.

Swim Coach Inducted In Hall

Richard Lennon of 28 Bradley, Andover, has been inducted into the State Swimming Coaches Hall of Fame.

He is beginning his second year as the director of Jim Loscutt's Camp Evergreen. For the previous six years, he had been the camp's assistant director and swimming specialist.

Mr. Lennon, director of swimming at Medford High School, had been the swimming and diving coach there for 15 years. His team amassed a record of 146-37. Andy Pallotta, one of his divers, still holds the sectional, state and New England diving records after 10 years and became an All-American high school diving champion during his junior and senior years.

Mr. Lennon was president of the State Swim Coaches Association, president of the New England U.S.S. Coaches and Officials Association, is a Red Cross instructor-trainer in water safety, a member of the M.I.A.A. State Committee and meet director of the regional and state swim championships.

He was a volunteer swimming and diving coach at the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A. under the direction of Mrs. Marilyn Fitzgerald. He is the diving coach of Phillips Academy where his son, Daniel, placed fifth in last month's New England championships.

Hockey Team Wins Title

The Andover Hockey Association Squirts A team, coached by Steve Munroe and Bob Pothier, won the Dual League championship by defeating Manchester, N.H. by a score of 7-2. The league is comprised of teams from Medford, Reading, Woburn, Chelmsford, North Andover, Manchester, N.H., and Salem, N.H. The team finished with a regular season 15-5 record.

The Squirts A's also played in the Valley League, based at Merrimack College. Here they finished with an overall 14-5-2 record. The Squirts' record for the year was 32-25-4. After a slow start in the parody rounds, the team finished with a 29-10-2 for the regular season.

A strong defense, good goaltending and an offense that averaged 4.5 goals a game were keys to the team's success. Backboned by the strong goaltending of second-year goalie Peter Afarian, with a 3.66 goals against average, the defense was led by co-capt. Brian Kwon (2 goals, 14 assists, 16 points); Todd Thistle (4-9-11); Brad Batchelder (12-18-30); Matt Trede (1-5-6); Luke Lavin (2-16-18); and Eric Stoltz (3-9-12).

Most of these players were converted forwards who adjusted to the new position and displayed good attitude, hustle and team spirit.

The offense, averaging 4.5 goals per game, came up with important goals when needed and worked hard at moving the puck. Co-capt. Jeff Pothier was the leading scorer (97 goals) as well as leading playmaker with 39 assists for a total of 136 points. The forwards were Chris Tedrick (45-25-70); Ryan Martin (23-16-39); Bill Kearns (14-26-40); Jenifer Munroe (7-31-38); Albert Kwon (18-17-35); Eric Marquis (14-15-29); Robert Kwon (15-12-27); Andy Henderson (8-7-15); and Matt Walsh (5-10-15).

Four first-year players made the big jump up from Mites last year and will return to the Squirts next year. Kearns, Henderson, Al Kwon and Robert Kwon finished the year strong, either scoring or making the right pass in key situations.

Afarian, Martin, Pothier, Marquis, Walsh, Thistle, Trede, Tedrick, Batchelder, Munroe, Lavin, Brian Kwon and Stoltz will move up to Pee Wees.

THE UNCONVENTIONAL SHADE

Home designers are giving homeowners a new perspective on window shades by mounting them upside down. By mounting roll-up shades on the sill, several advantages can be had over the conventional hanging method. For one, a shade that unrolls upward has a unique interesting look. Secondly, when extended midway up the window, the bottom-mounted shade lets in light while still retaining indoor privacy. Lastly, "upside-down" shades provide windows with better insulating qualities because of their tighter fit. When mounting a shade bottoms-up, it is necessary to disengage the ratchet mechanism. This will leave the shade under constant tension, requiring a pulley-and-cleat arrangement to keep the shade in a fixed position. However, these slight adjustments should be more than offset by the unique qualities of the roll-up shade.

There is no question that the right kind of window treatment can add that final touch of distinction and practicality to your interior. We work with your ideas at GORHAM'S DECORATING CENTER to achieve the ideal blend of materials and styles to match both your personality and lifestyle. We look forward to working with you either in one room or throughout your home. Of course, our suggestions will also take into consideration your budget requirements. We are here at 581 CHICKERING RD., RT. 125, 683-4870 Open: Mon-Fri 9-6; Tues til 9, Sat til 5.

All participants in the program received a trophy to commend their "dedication" or "achievement." Special awards of highest point and high point scorer were given to those who scored the most points in their age category.

Bank Increases Funds For Bay State Scholars

Bank of Boston, the presenting sponsor of the Bay State Games, has increased the funding for its annual Lead by Example scholarships, which are awarded to student-athletes in the Bay State Games.

The scholarships recognize high school juniors who have demonstrated outstanding qualities of leadership in school, athletics and their communities. Bank of Boston initiated the scholarship program in 1987 in an effort to inspire young people to lead their peers in positive directions.

"As sponsors of the Lead by Example Scholarship, we have a unique opportunity to assist young people in the pursuit of their long-term dreams," said Ira Stepanian, chairman and CEO of the bank. "We are proud of the accomplishments of our past Lead by Example scholarship winners and hope through this scholarship to encourage more student-athletes to make the same commitment to education."

The scholarships are awarded to four boys and four girls statewide who have participated in the Bay State Games.

Massachusetts Amateur Sports Foundation Director Doug Arnot said, "With the support of Bank of Boston, we have achieved many of our off-the-field objectives for the Bay State Games. The bank's increased support for the scholarships reflects our joint concern for the future of the young people of Massachusetts."

Applications for the Lead by Example scholarships are available in the offices of high school principals, guidance and athletic directors and may be requested from the Bay State Games office, P.O. Box 8336, Boston, Mass. 02114.

of three-setters, both won in comeback fashion by Andover.

In both cases the Lady Warriors lost a tough, close first set and then romped to victory in the second and third sets.

The Indians' unbeaten No. 1 standout, Leigh McCarty, handed Co-Capt. Cate Doherty her first setback this season (6-3, 6-2) for the lone Billerica point.

Junior Andrea Georgian coasted past Kris Frazier 6-1, 6-2 at second singles, and the other uncomplicated win came at first doubles where AHS seniors Eszter Vajda and Julie Salazar cruised 6-2, 6-1 over Moira Breen and Kathy Cristello.

Junior Jen Brodie had to rally at third singles for a 5-7, 6-1, 6-0 decision over Dana Carrabba.

The second doubles team of junior Andrea Napolitano and sophomore Tracey Goodman also took a roller coaster ride, dropping a 6-7 tiebreaker before rolling 6-3, 6-0 in the last two sets against Mary Mahoney and Vanessa Donadio.

Keying the 5-0 sweep of Lowell were three victories by the singles' players, who lost only six games in the six sets.

Cate Doherty flipped Jen Silveria, 6-0, 6-1, Andrea Georgian routed Debbie Drainville 6-1, 6-1, and Jen Brodie cruised past Meg Regan 6-1, 6-2.

SHED Contract

portable building that will enable it to continue providing day care for about 100 kindergartners at the Shawsheen School site. Now School Committee members have to come up with stipulations they want included in the contract so the building can be erected in time for school in September.

One of the concerns raised by member Susan Poore was the town's charter and bylaws that give Town Manager Kenneth Mahony control over the SHED project and who should be responsible for the contract of tenancy on school property. SHED is connected to the town's Department of Community Services, even though it is now a private, non-profit corporation.

"It's Mr. Mahony's job to draw up the contracts," she said.

Though he agreed that SHED was a town project, committeeman Richard Hubbell said the School Committee should have a properly worded contract ensuring that the land and buildings at the Shawsheen School are not misused.

The question of overall fiscal as well as legal liability was another question raised.

"What if they (SHED) should default, at whose expense will that be—the town's?" asked committeeman Andres Salazar.

After a lengthy discussion of contractual issues, the committee asked Dr. Kenneth Seifert, superintendent of schools, to work with the town side and SHED directors to come up with a contract proposal and dates for reviews for specifications.

The abutters voiced concerns over lack of information available and neighborhood involvement in the planning process of the building.

"We've had to go from pillar and post to get any information," said Lee Grune of 2 Magnolia Ave.

Ms. Poore suggested that documents pertaining to SHED and the portable classroom, such as blueprints and bidding documents, be kept at a central location, like the school administration building, which is open to the public during business hours.

In other committee business, the last day of school was voted on. Providing there are no snow days, the committee voted unanimously that the last day of school would end at noon on June 20. Graduating seniors will finish on May 24.

Mystery Fumes

She heard about the disturbance, and as a union steward, she went into the affected area to investigate.

The odor "almost smelled like exhaust fumes. It was very, very faint," she said.

Some 45 minutes after exposure, "I felt a pain, it started as dull throbbing and I became dizzy. It was very hard to get my thoughts together."

Ms. Dion was treated by emergency fire personnel but declined to go to the hospital. She has since made an appointment with her physician.

"It could be worse," she said. "I'm just glad I'm not pregnant."

Mr. Penney said he suggested the IRS continue monitoring the situation closely and bring in an environmental specialist to further test the building.

Although the IRS has been cooperative with the town in the past, as a federal agency they have no obligation to follow town directives, said Mr. Penney.

All the furor has not seemed to affect the processing of tax returns. Ms. Dearborn said "this has all been just a blip. It has not delayed processing at all."

fic situation in Ballardvale, which is already terrible."

Residents who own the proposed sewer easements on Chester Street indicated they weren't happy with the idea of selling the right to install sewer lines on their property.

Macleod shrugged and said other alternatives are available.

The board had little comment on the plan and indicated they would make a decision at their May 9 meeting.

Down The Years

25 Years Ago — April 1964

The reliability of counting procedures, by which large numbers of children were reported as using playground facilities was challenged Monday night by Recreation Committee members. James O'Reilly first suggested that the dollar-cost per child should be determined on the basis that when only a few children are using a playground, it may be cheaper to transport them somewhere else. Throughout the meeting, there was repeated reference to the cumulative totals published in other years by playground personnel. Members said these figures were totals arrived at by adding the morning and afternoon attendance together, even if these were the same children.

Police chief David. L. Nicoll expects to confer at length with the town manager this week to map plans for better patrol coverage in the community. The joint recommendation of the two men will be presented to the Selectmen for consideration. While this effort is going on, the chief has assigned two men to an overtime stint, to maintain West Andover coverage between 11:30 p.m. and 1 a.m.

10 Years Ago — April 1979

The school committee Tuesday night decided to exert their leadership and not present a smorgasbord of building alternatives to town meeting in May. The committee dropped the possibility of renovating East Jr. High because the state said it wouldn't fund the project, and went on record in favor of a new East Jr. High as well as scaled down modifications at West Jr. High and the high school. At the high school they would like an auditorium, but not a classroom addition.

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark asked approval of the selectmen Thursday night to regrade and reclassify job positions in the town government.

The manager of the town's inventory control system will be taking inventory of the town's property for the first time in 12 years, and Clark has asked his salary be raised from $15,751 to $16,539.

assembled politicians are expected to say a few words.

Lisa Boudreau, Ted's oldest daughter, will throw out the traditional first ball.

Appropriately the first of five opening day games will be between the Red Sox and Cards, with action scheduled to begin at 10 a.m.

Four more games will follow at the Chandler Road complex, two at 12 noon and the final two at 2 p.m. The inter-league matchups have been determined by the teams' place in the final standings last summer.

While the Red Sox-Cardinals game is in progress on one field, it is anticipated that the high school coaching staff will be conducting a clinic for six- and seven-year-old players on the other field.

The magnitude of the opening day activities was such that the date was changed from April 29, giving league officials an extra week to prepare.

"Needless to say we're pretty excited about everything that's taking place," said president Novelline.

Freshmen

squeeze bunt and Jim Landry ripped a two-run single to tie the game and break it open respectively in the sixth.

Third baseman Landry finished with two basehits and scored twice, Waitkevitch added two hits and two ribbies, Matt Harris smacked an RBI double in the first stanza, and singles came from Bobby Sheehan, Matt Daniels, Todd Allard and Chris Lembo.

Shawn Garrity played a strong defensive game at first base.

Baskets By Marie

If you are searching for that distinctive, personalized gift, Baskets by Marie is able to accommodate you. Owner Marie Faro personally fills each individual basket with useful, fanciful and unique gifts suitable for the occasion. In addition to baskets with a holiday theme, there are those appropriate for baby shower, christening, bridal shower, anniversary, get well, sympathy, birthday, housewarming, bon voyage, special holidays, graduation and any other occasion one may wish to celebrate with a personal touch. The popular new gourmet theme baskets are available in Italian Kitchen, Gourmet Delight, French Countryside, Sweet Sensations (gourmet chocolate and candy from around the world) and Traditional New England. Their newest creation is the executive shoeshine kit. Baskets may be purchased already assembled or custom made to your specifications.

Gift baskets have become popular with large corporations as well as small businesses who wish to recognize, congratulate, send holiday gifts or as incentive plans for employees and customers. They are especially appropriate for realtors, luxury apartment rentals and employee placement firms. Marie Faro will bring samples to your company or they may be viewed at her place of business by appointment. Business accounts that order ten or more baskets receive a ten percent discount.

Baskets by Marie delivers locally and ships nationwide via U.P.S. Mastercard and Visa are accepted. For further information or advice on a specific theme for a basket, call Marie Faro at (508) 682-5233 or write to P.O. Box 416, North Andover, MA 01845.

Mysterious 'Gas' That Closed IRS Still Unidentified

By Frank Messina

Health officials are still puzzled over the nature of a mysterious gas that sent 18 Internal Revenue Service employees to the hospital Monday night and shut down the regional facility during the busiest tax processing season of the year.

Although federal authorities reopened the center the next morning after an around-the-clock search for the noxious gas source yielded nothing, union officials say the symptoms—nausea, headaches, weakness—still haunt the plant.

Ann Dwyer, union president, said 50 to 100 day shift workers were treated for similar respiratory complaints at an on-site health office Tuesday and several pregnant women went home.

"The biggest problem is that nobody knows what happened," she said. (Federal health experts) just can't figure this out. It's very scary here."

An IRS spokeswoman confirmed that 50 employees went to the health unit Tuesday, but "we've had the fire department, the department of health and OSHA (the federal Occupational Health and Safety Administration) look around and they've found nothing," said Janet Dearborn, IRS public affairs officer.

Local and federal agencies have been searching futilely for signs of toxic substances since Andover firefighters evacuated some 700 employees from the IRS center on Lowell Street sometime after 9:30 p.m. Monday night. Fire personnel scoured the building for two hours finding anything. Another inspection early next morning by OSHA engineers yielded an overturned pint bottle of solvent.

and other officials who were on the scene are speculating that outside sources, such as exhaust fumes drifting from a truck or freshly-spread fertilizer, may have been responsible. But, they admit that 48 hours later, nothing more than theories have surfaced.

"It could be anything from sick building syndrome to some kind of outside agent," said Mr. Penney.

The health director said IRS officials told him Tuesday that employees have complained of stale air in the offices recently. The federal agency added that outside consultants have tested the air in response to the complaints and found nothing, said Mr. Penney.

"I suspect we may never know what caused" the attack, said Mr. Penney.

Fire Chief Harold Hayes said the department responded after two anonymous phone calls alerted them to the situation.

At 8:25 p.m., the first caller said employees smelled natural gas in the building, but when fire officials called IRS security they were told no leak could be found and no help was needed, said Chief Hayes.

Fire and police units arrived on the scene shortly before 9:30 p.m. after receiving another anonymous call complaining that people were becoming ill.

Deputy James Lynch found that several hundred workers had been transferred to a cafeteria and ordered them outside, said Chief Hayes. A medical triage area was set up and over 30 workers, including one who had been overcome by the gas, were examined. Ambulances from six medical agencies transported 18 people to Lawrence General, Holy Family and St. John hospitals where they were treated and released.

Isabella Dion, a union steward on duty Monday night, said she still suffered from a headache the next day.

"If I didn't know better, I'd say I was hung over," she said.

Ms. Dion was working away from the section where the first signs of noxious gas was reported.
